Mumuni's narrative:
Poke was a Toa here. He married a sister of Tepou (mum) called Talila. But Tepou cf or Mulingo disliked Poke cf they fakafolowed him, cf pretended him dead. Poke however had magic powers cf was able not only to recover from his stabbing, but to make it in his hotel canoe to Ninga. He married there cf bore the children above. TUI, his son, rel'd to Nanumea about the time the church came (1870–72) cf the Nanumeans were astonished to see him – he claimed the family lands. Nobody could take on TUI to kill him. Thus the family lands of ~~Nanumea~~ POKE are his today (Mumuni's)

LEEKAI to Tahiti
FAUGAUTA
Kataia to NUI
* Tepuke later called Kaudo (trade) but name = Tepuke.
NOTE: This is Punanga wife. She is related somehow to KAUTOA of 19/-3, who named two Kid Ninga. Poss. a sib of FULUI (?)
NB see sheet 19/-3 top right for Kautoa; name Faugauta there too. But w/o more info v. hard to link any of this up.
HEILOA'S VERSION OF ABOVE
Mumuni has no blood ties here. Long ago his relative TUI came to Nnea. cf became of HOA with ancestors in Mono's family. The had lands to use from this source. TUI settl to Ninga cf his lands reverted to Mono's family. Any claim to a blood tie w/ them is a lie. Mumuni does have land here thru an adoption.
FOLOPEA of Nanumea (related to TEONGE + Tepou) adopted, + lands gran. somehow
MUMUNI of Ninga
descends to Mumuni today by unk. links
TAULIALIA'S VERSION of ABOVE
